DEATH OF SIR KEITH AICKIN

I was saddened to learn of the death of Sir Keith Aickin. Sir Keith brought to the High Court, to which he was appointed in 1976, the skills of one of Australia's most eminent constitutional and commercial lawyers. He served the High Court and the country with distinction. His quiet, courteous manner and the wisdom of his advice earned him the respect and affection of all who came in contact with him.

I extend my sympathy to Lady Aickin and the family.
