

MESSAGE TO PRIME MINISTER, MR. MENZIES
FROM PRESIDENT-ELECT, SENATOR JOHN F. KENNEDY

The President-Elect of the United States, Senator John F. Kennedy, has sent the following message to the Prime Minister, Mr. Menzies :

" Many thanks for the generous message of good will upon my election to the Presidency of the United States. I warmly welcome the expression of cooperation from you and your colleagues of the Government of Australia.

" Our two nations share many common tasks, both in our domestic affairs, and in our world responsibilities. I know that the association among our peoples will become even firmer in the years ahead.

" With every good wish,
John F. Kennedy"

The message was delivered in Canberra today by the United States Ambassador, Mr. William J. Sebald.

The Prime Minister sent the following message to the President-Elect after the recent Presidential Elections:

" My colleagues and I send you our congratulations on your election to the great office of President. In the discharge of your immense international responsibilities you may be assured of Australian co-operation and goodwill."
