PRIME MINISTER'S COMMENT ON SENATE
ELECTION RESULTS

The results are by no means final. But so far, they show that the Government candidates have polled well and that our defence policy has certainly been approved. Our authority, on behalf of the people, is thus affirmed. What is more important is that we continue to carry great responsibilities, which it will be our supreme duty to discharge with energy and clarity of mind and purpose.

CANBERRA,

7th December, 1964.
