MEDIA RELEASE

FILM AND TELEVISION SCHOOL

The Acting Prime Minister, Mr Anthony, today announced on behalf of the Prime Minister the appointment of three members to the Council of the Film and Television School.

Mr Anthony said Mr Tom M. Jeffrey, a Sydney film and television director, has joined the Council as Chairman, a three year part-time appointment.

Mr Jeffrey was previously Chairman of the Australia Council's Film, Radio and Television Board and has had a long career as a film and television director with the Australian Broadcasting Commission and the British Broadcasting Corporation. He recently directed the feature film "The Removalists".

Mr Anthony also announced the appointment of Mr Ken F. Watts and Barry O. Jones M.L.A., to the School Council, both for three years.

Mr Watts is Chairman of the Australian Film Commission and was formerly Assistant General Manager (Television), Australian Broadcasting Commission.

Mr Jones has been associated with the Film and Television School for a number of years and is a past-Chairman of the School Council.
